

Transferable Skills

In the military, your skills can be related to your specialty or rating but some skills do not fluctuate. Your commitment to a cause and ability to follow orders and work on a team are skills that military service members possess regardless of rank or service branch. Here are some additional skills you likely have that transfer to the talent development space and ones you should highlight on your resume and during your job interviews.

- Communication skills
  - Public Speaking
  - Oral Communication (including knowing when not to talk)
  - Writing
  - Persuasion
- Training/Facilitating
  - Coaching
  - Mentoring
  - Collaboration
  - Leadership
  - Management
  - Collaboration/Team Development
- Project Management
  - Change Management
  - Resiliency
  - Adaptability
  - Analytical and Evaluation
  - Negotiating
  - Reporting
  - Attention to Detail
  - Performance Improvement
  - Emotional Intelligence

